I got this because one of my children was having a hard time with learning to tell time on an analog clock. I really like it that the minute and hour hands are color-coded to the corresponding areas on the clock face. The hour hand is red and so are all the big numbers. The minute hand is blue and there is a blue ring around the hour numbers that show the minutes. That's great since one of the problems was remembering which hand went with hours or minutes. Time - Learn English Basics

Digital clocks often show the time this way using the 24-hour-clock, only the police and the military actually speak using the 24 hour clock:- If it's before noon we tend to say "in the morning". If it's after noon we say "in the afternoon".
