A Microcontroller-Based Solar Panel Tracking System Abstract Renewable energy is rapidly gaining importance as an energy resource as fossil fuel prices fluctuate. At the educational level, it is therefore critical for engineering and technology students to have an understanding and appreciation of the technologies associated with renewable energy.

MICROCONTROLLER BASED SOLAR TRACKING SYSTEM

We decided to make our own solar tracker to see if we could reduce the cost. We did not want to re-invent the wheel but wanted to make it more affordable. We started our small and came up with the idea of solar tracking using time instead of using a device that would sense where the sun is and move the panels toward it.
